Report

As a part of Social Responsibility and service nature of the Secretary and Correspondent Mr. K Venugopal identified an APSRW School which needs development in terms of infrastructure and also needs academic support for the students to reach their goals. He identified that the students have got high potential but due to lack of proper facilities and lack of awareness they were left to be underdeveloped. Mr. K. Venugopal, as a successful educationalist running gigantic organizations, Ratnam Group of Institutions in Nellore and Ramachandra College of Engineering, Eluru extended his help to the School and promised that he would provide academic support to the students by providing them training in various aspects such as Communication Skills, basic etiquettes, language enhancement, body language, mathematics, physics, chemistry etc. So that the student can easily get to reach their goals like EAMCET and other competitive examinations. As a part of it Mr. Srikanth and Mr. Saptagiri trained the students on communication and language skills for 15 days and observed a remarkable change in the student's behavior. The faculty members voluntarily showed interest to train the students.
